When a table has been made (a minimum of two players) or when a new deck of cards is introduced into the game, the cards shall be checked, card by card, by the Dealer. After the cards have been inspected by the Dealer the cards may be inspected by an Area Manager and/or Casino Manager. Before the initial shuffle the Dealer must chemmy shuffle the new deck. Before each hand the Dealer shall shuffle the deck of cards on the table without disclosing any card so that they are randomly intermixed. After the cards have been shuffled, the Dealer shall cut the cards and place them on a cutting card in preparation for play. The cut must be made more than one card from either end of the pack and in full view of the players. An approved shuffling machine may be used to randomly intermix the cards prior to the initial deal. In the event of a complete machine failure the game will continue manually in accordance with the rules of Texas Hold'em poker. When a player leaves the game the remaining active players have priority in an anti-clockwise direction from the Dealer Button over any player waiting to join the game, to move to the vacated playing position.
11. The game shall be played in the following sequence:-
 - a. Prior to the cards being dealt on the initial deal, the players to the immediate left of the dealer button will place blind bets as outlined in Appendix 1. Each player, including the blind bettors, prior to the cards being dealt on the initial deal, shall place antes (if used) as outlined in Appendix 1.
 - b. The Dealer shall then deal, in a clockwise direction to each player starting with the player to the immediate left of the Dealer Button position, one card face down. He/she shall then repeat this process until all players have two cards. These cards shall be known as the hole cards.
 - c. The first betting round shall then take place.
 - d. At the completion of the first betting round the Dealer shall then burn a card then deal the flop - three cards face up in the middle of the table. Cards dealt to the middle of the table shall be known as community cards.

 - i. The final betting round shall then take place.
12. A player's completed hand shall comprise the best five card combination using none, one or two of his own hole cards plus five, four or three of the community cards.
13. It is the player's responsibility to ensure their hand contains the correct number of cards. Failure to do so will result in the player holding a Dead Hand and the player will have no redress. If a player is yet to act on their hand, they will be entitled to receive any wagers, forced bets or blinds back. If the affected player has made any action of check, call, raise or fold, any wagers, forced bets or blinds will remain in the pot.

THE BETTING

14. Texas Hold'em shall be played using at least two blind bets per Appendix 1 and Rule 29 whether the limits are 'Appendix 1 Texas Hold'em Limits' or any of the 'Appendix 1 Alternative Limits'.
15. All bets and raises must be equal to or greater than the previous legitimate bet or raise in the same betting round, except where the person under-raising is a player going all-in (see Rule 48).

THE FIRST ROUND OF BETTING

16. When all players have received their hole cards, the player to the left of the big blind position, in accordance with Appendix 1, shall have three options:-
 - a. Call (equal the amount wagered by the previous bettors).
 - b. Raise (equal the amount wagered by the previous bettors, plus an additional amount within the betting limits outlined in Rule 29).
 - c. Fold (turn his cards face down on the table, pass them in and take no further part in the hand).
17. Each player in turn (subject to rule 18) shall follow the procedure in Rule 16 until:-
 - a. Only one player remains in the game. He wins the pot.
 - b. Two or more players have put an equal amount into the pot.
18. In the first betting cycle of the first round the players seated in the blind positions shall in accordance with Appendix 1, at their turn, have the following options: -
 - a. Call (equal the amount wagered by the previous bettors).
 - b. Raise (an amount within the betting limits outlined in Rule 29).
 - c. Fold (keep his hole cards face down, pass them in, and take no further part in the hand).
 - d. Check, if in the big blind position and no one has raised.
19. If two or more players are still in the hand and all bets have been met by these players, the Dealer will deal three community cards face up, and the second round of betting will take place in accordance with Rule 15 and Rule 16 a., b., and c.

THE SECOND AND THIRD ROUNDS OF BETTING

20. The first active player to the immediate left of the Dealer Button will be the first to bet, or check in accordance with Rule 40. Thereafter the other players may, in accordance with Appendix 1 and Rules 41 and 42, have four options:-
 - a. Check
 - b. Call (equal the amount of the wager by the previous bettors)
 - c. Raise (bet an additional amount within the betting limits).
 - d. Fold (keep hole cards face down, pass them in, and take no further part in the hand).
21. Play continues until the pot is won or all five community cards have been exposed.

THE FINAL ROUND OF BETTING

22. a. After the fifth community card is exposed the first active player to the left of the Dealer Button will play as provided in Rule 20 until, subject to Rule 48, all remaining players have wagered an equal amount. The player being called may then expose his hole cards. Should a player or players have, or believe they have a hand of higher value, these should then be tabled, then the Dealer will announce the winning hand.
 - b. A player must table both hole cards to contest a showdown including when only using the five community cards to make their best poker hand.
23. A called player may surrender their hand by folding it face down, however upon request by another player that had called the final bet of the final round of betting, these cards may be opened by the dealer.

Should a player with a losing hand that had called the final bet in the final round of betting, ask to see the called player's cards prior to those cards touching the muck, then those cards shall be exposed but remain a dead hand.

Should a player that holds live cards call the final bet in the final round of betting and ask to see a called player's hand prior to that hand touching the muck, the called player's hand shall be exposed and remain active, subject to rule 74a.

24. Should the final betting round be 'checked', the first player to expose his hole cards shall be the first player to the left of the dealer button. When there can be no betting during the final round of betting because a player or players are 'all-in', the first player to open their cards shall be the last called player in the earlier betting round in which the remaining player or players became 'all-in'. Should a player or players have, or believe they have a hand of higher value, these should then be tabled and the Dealer will announce the winning hand.
25. Before passing the pot to the winning player(s) the Dealer will deduct the correct house commission in accordance with rule 78, and place these chips in a separate commission tube prior to being accounted for in the table inventory.
26. When two or more players hold the highest hands of equal value, the pot, after the house commission has been deducted, shall be equally divided between them subject to Rule 58 and Rule 59 a and b.

MISDEALS

27. On completion of each showdown the cards will be shuffled in accordance with Rule 4 and then the game continues with a new deal as per Rules 9 and 11
28. Wherever a misdeal occurs there must be a new shuffle and cut. The same player will be first to receive cards in the new deal as in the previous misdeals. A hand may only be deemed a misdeal (per below) prior to substantial action taking place.
There is a misdeal:-
- If one or more cards are exposed in cutting.
 - If the Dealer deals the hole cards out of turn and the wrong player has looked at either.
 - If two or more cards are exposed during the initial deal.
 - If the Dealer deals too few or too many hands and the deal cannot be reconstructed (see Rule 46).
 - as per Rule 54.

39. All wagers including the blinds shall remain in front of the players until a betting round is complete.

CHECKING

40. The first player, in all but the initial betting round, may check and let the player on his immediate left open the betting. He in turn may also check. If all players check, that betting round shall be over and the next card dealt.
41. No player can check after a bet has been made in that betting round.
42. All players will check, bet or fold in turn.

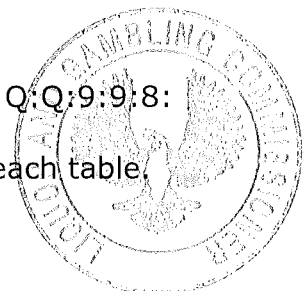

ORDER OF HANDS

43. The order of hands in descending order shall be:-

- a. Royal Flush: Five top cards from each suit in sequence.
eg. A:K:Q:J:10: all spades
- b. Straight Flush: Five cards of the same suit in sequence.
eg. J:10:9:8:7: all hearts
- c. Fours: Four of a kind. eg. 9:9:9:9:Q:
- d. Full House: Three cards of one kind plus two of another.
eg. J:J:J:7:7:
- e. Flush: Five cards of the same suit. eg. K:J:10:8:7: All Clubs

An ace will count low in the combination 5:4:3:2:A

- h. Two Pairs eg. J:J:10:10:8:
- i. One Pair eg. K:K:Q:9:8:
- j. Five odd cards eg. K:J:9:8:7:

44. In Rule 43 the rank of all cards count eg. Q:Q:9:9:7 loses to Q:Q:9:9:8:

45. The order of hands shall be displayed by a notice at or near each table.

DEALING IN MORE OR FEWER PLAYERS

46. If a Dealer deals a player out or deals an extra hand in and it is discovered before the players have looked at their hole cards and if the error can be corrected so that each player receives his proper cards (by shifting a card from one player to another and placing the extra cards or card back on top of the pack or dealing one or more cards from the pack without any of the cards being exposed to any player) there is not a misdeal. If the above conditions cannot be met then that hand is a misdeal.

PROTECTING THE PLAYER'S HOLE CARDS

47. a. A player must protect the identity of his hole cards (first cards dealt face down) at all times, regardless of whether he is an active player or has folded. If the folding player's hole cards are exposed, the Dealer will expose the cards to the table. At the showdown the only hole cards that may be required to be exposed are those of the player called and those of any player or players calling who hold a winning hand (see rules 22, 23 and 24). Should a player calling at the showdown be satisfied he does not possess the winning hand, then he should pass his cards into the Dealer without exposing his hole cards.
- b. If a Dealer mucks an unprotected hand, the player will have no redress and will not be entitled to his money back. An exception would be if a player raised and his raise had not been called yet - he would be entitled to receive his raise back.
- c. A tabled hand that was obviously the winning hand cannot be killed.

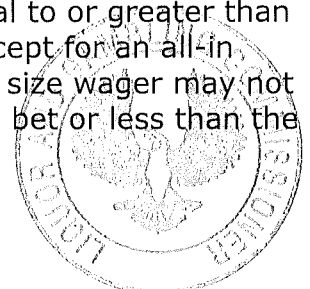

GOING ALL-IN

48. A Player who does not have a bank of chips of sufficient value to meet a wager and wishes to stay in the hand must wager the remaining amount of his bank of chips and thus go all-in. He remains in the hand as an active player until the Showdown, taking no further part in any subsequent betting round or rounds. Any surplus above the amount wagered, at the time the person goes all-in, by other players will be placed in a separate pot. Should he have the highest-ranking hand on the showdown he wins only the initial pot and not the separate pot (or pots if two players go all-in during the same hand), which is won by the player having the highest-ranking cards amongst the remaining bettors.

Any wager must be at least the same size of the previous bet or raise in that round, unless a player is going all-in.

In limit play, an all-in wager of less than half a bet does not reopen the betting for any player who has already acted and is in the pot for all previous bets. A player facing less than half the bet may fold, call or complete the wager. An all-in wager of a half bet or more is treated as a full bet, and a player may fold, call or make a full raise.

For half-pot, full-pot or no-limit games all raises must be equal to or greater than the size of the previous bet or raise on that betting round, except for an all-in wager. A player who has already acted and is not facing a full size wager may not subsequently raise an all-in bet that is less than the minimum bet or less than the full size of the last bet or raise.

GOING THROUGH FOLDED CARDS/DISCARDS

TIME

- 53. a. Once a reasonable amount of time as indicated by an Area Manager and/or Casino Manager has passed, a clock may be called for. A player will then be given 30 seconds to make a decision (excluding per games per rule 53 b.). If no action has been taken at the conclusion of 30 seconds, (excluding per games per rule 53 b.) there will be a 10 second countdown. If a player facing a bet has not acted on his hand by the time the countdown is over, the hand will be dead. If a player is not facing a bet and has not acted by the time the countdown is over, that player will be deemed to have checked.
- b. Play during some cash games and tournaments may have a reduction in the time permissible to act on a hand. The time given to act on a hand in such games shall be determined by the Area Manager and/or Casino Manager and displayed on signage at or near the table. The dealer shall be responsible for monitoring the time taken by players and if a player facing a bet has not acted on his hand by the time the countdown is over, the hand will be dead. If a player is not facing a bet and has not acted by the time the countdown is over, that player will be deemed to have checked
- c. A player may have the option to purchase additional time to make a decision as per rule 78(g).

BOXED CARDS

- 54. a. If a card to be used as a hole card is found face up in the pack or if the Dealer exposes a hole card in dealing the cards, then the card is to be put aside until the deal has been completed then the exposed card is to be swapped with the first burn card. 56. At the exposing of the fourth or fifth community cards;

- a. If two (or more) cards are exposed when dealing the fourth community card, the correct card shall remain in play and the superfluous card shall be reshuffled with the remainder of the deck. The burn card shall remain. If two (or more) cards are exposed when dealing the fifth community card the correct card shall remain and the superfluous card shall be discarded. If it is not possible to determine the correct card, the community card shall be re-dealt after reshuffling and recutting the two (or more) exposed cards together with the remainder of the deck. The burn card shall remain.
- b. If there has been substantial action, then the community card shall remain.
- d. A burn card dealt as the turn or river card shall be retrieved and burnt prior to substantial action taking place. The correct turn or river card shall then be dealt. Should there be substantial action before the error is noticed, then that card shall remain.

57. If a player holds too few or too many cards during the betting round or at the showdown then his hand is void. If it is at the showdown and there is only one other player, then the player holding the correct number of cards wins the pot. If there is no other player remaining then the last player or players who folded during the final betting round wins the pot.

SPLIT POTS

58. Where more than one player is to share a pot or pots in accordance with Rule 26 and if after the deduction of commission each player's share of the pot or pots is not wholly divisible by the number of such player's who are to share the pot or pots, then the player closest to the immediate left of the Dealer Button shall receive the higher value pot.
59. a. Where all the players who commence a hand finish the hand and win the pot and the pot is divided in accordance with Rule 26 then no commission shall be deducted from the pot or pots.
